HAS BEGUN TO FALL

THE PARIS FLOOD WATERS
REACHED THE MAXIMUM
HEIGHT SATURDAY.

WATER IS NOW SLOWLY RECEDED

Conditions in the Great City Are Indescribable—Chaos Reigns and Much Suffering From Cold and Hunger.

International News Service.

Paris, Jan. 29.—The great flood reached its maximum today at thirty-one feet one inch, and now has begun to fall slowly. The River Marne is falling the most quickly, registering a drop of forty-four inches. The general situation in the city has much improved. The water in the streets has risen slightly, owing to the bursting of sewers and water mains, but the weather is fine and the authorities are optimistic, and they believe the worst is now over. The declaration of a siege is not now necessary.

Here is an epitome of the damage wrought by the waters and conditions throughout the inundated sections of the city: Traffic is suspended entirely on the following streets: Cours La Reine, Rue Mazarine, Rue De Bourgogne, Rue De L'Université, Rue Des Saints Peres, Rue De Bac, Rue Bonaparte, Rue D'Auteuil, Rue De Grenelle, Rue De Lille, Rue St. Antoine, Rue De Faubourg, Rue De Seine, Boulevards St. Germaine and Haussmann, Rue De Havre, Rue Montaigne and Rue Royale.

Commercial activity in almost every walk of life is paralyzed. The country roads in the valley of the Seine and for miles about Paris are impassable.

The following bridges are closed: Solferino, Alma, Royal, Arc de Triomphe and lower Champs Elysées. All telephone service has been discontinued, railroad traffic is practically at a standstill, telegraph wires badly crippled, the subway service paralyzed and all surface lines abandoned. Electricity for lighting and other purposes has been cut off.

The caving in of Place de la Concorde and lower Champs Elysées is imminent. Mail is being delivered in boats. Hundreds of soldiers, policemen, firemen and civilians are throwing up dams of cement. The Couvent of St. Sulpice shelters many refugees and homeless persons.

Fuel and food prices have soared to famine rates. The Saint Lazare railroad station is surrounded by water and not a train can enter. The suffering from cold and hunger is intense. Only the highest quarters of the city are unaffected.

SUIT IS SENSATIONAL

That Filed by Mrs. Eva W. Lopp in Circuit Court Saturday.

Mrs. Eva W. Lopp, wife of D. A. Lopp, the contractor, through Attorneys Bente & Wilson, instituted suit in circuit court Saturday against A. J. Hogan, George Emo and G. S. Mosely, doing business under the firm name of the Home Realty company, making a rather startling accusation in the petition.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendants had been engaged by her to sell a tract of land in Cedar county, owned by her, and that they consummated a deal with M. C. Jarvis, of Benton county.

The plaintiff further states that there was a cash difference of $300, which they appropriated to their own use, without letting her know there was any such difference.

REEDER LANDS GOOD JOB

Was Former Employee of the Missouri Pacific Here.

Harry C. Reeder, formerly with the civil engineering department of the Missouri Pacific, who recently removed with his wife and baby daughter, Elizabeth, to Phoenix, Arizona, has been appointed division engineer for the Southern Pacific railway, with headquarters at Phoenix, and will have charge of the engineering work from Maricopa to Phoenix on the main line, and also on the branch lines in that immediate territory.

He will have two assistants, and is elated at his good luck in his new home.

Mrs. Reeder writes that she likes

Phoenix "immensely." She was sitting on the front porch writing, she said in a letter to home folks, and the baby was playing in the yard.

They have three different times at Phoenix—Mountain, used by the Santa Fe; Pacific, which the Southern Pacific uses, and city time, which is different.

Mrs. Reeder had a pleasant visit a few days ago from Mrs. Norton and her daughter, Helen, who are spending the winter at Phoenix, and also met Mother Emma, who was Mrs. Reeder's teacher at Sacred Heart school here some eighteen years ago.

There are more handsome automobiles in Phoenix, Mrs. Reeder writes, than in any city of like size she has ever visited. The only disagreeable feature at Phoenix is the water, which contains so much alkali that it tastes like soda water.

CHANGE THE RULES

PRESIDENT TAFT MAY BE WILLING AFTER CONGRESS PASSES HIS MEASURES.

AT PRESENT HE OPPOSES THE PLAN

Insurgents, However, Seem to Have Strength Enough to Bring About Reforms in Spite of the Executive's Objections.

International News Service.

Washington, Jan. 29.—President Taft has put the brakes on the insurgent movement to take Speaker Cannon from the committee on rules. He told Judge Goode and Nicholas Longworth, of the Ohio delegation, today, that he thought all agitation for changes in the rules should cease until the legislative reforms to which the party stood committed shall have been passed.

The president made it clear that he will insist on the passage of the laws he has recommended at once. After this work is done the president is said to have declared he has no objection to a discussion over changes of the house rules.

Friends of the president assert he is inclined to think it wisdom to make some changes, but has not committed himself to the plan of enlargement of the committee and the ineligibility of the speaker to serve on it.

The insurgents, under the leadership of Hayes, of California, are working for an immediate change in the rules along the lines of the Fowler resolution, enlarging the committee from five to nine or eleven members, the new members to be elected by the house.

It is believed that this committee would be representative of the house and would be a fair steering committee for the majority. The insurgents are divided on the necessity for taking Cannon off the committee. Many regulars have lined up with Hayes, and it seems probable that some change is to be made.

SCARLET FEVER IN ACADEMY

Two Sedalia Young Ladies Return Home to Escape Epidemic.

Misses Mary McEniry and Maytie Bertche, student at Mt. Carmel academy at Wichita, Kas., who came home Thursday for a three weeks' vacation, will not return to the institution until the scarlet fever scare, which is now predominating at the school, subsides.

Less than a fortnight ago the disease manifested itself and a week ago today a young lady from Independence, Kas., died from the fever. The lady was 19 years of age and was a member of Miss McEniry's class. The latter, with five others, had been exposed to the disease.

On learning of the death of the girl thirty-five students of the school left for their homes, fearing the disease might have taken a hold on others, after which the president of the school ordered a three weeks' vacation, pending the result of the students being exposed to the fever.

Mt. Carmel academy has membership of two hundred.

THE CONSUMERS' CRUSADE

MAY BE ARRESTS

SWOPE FAMILY DETERMINED TO FORCE PROSECUTION IN POISON CASE.

SAYS ENOUGH EVIDENCE FOUND

Absence of Poison in the Stomachs, It Is Pointed Out, Doesn't Preclude Its Presence Elsewhere.

Kansas City, Jan. 29.—Development in the Swope case today make it apparently certain that the Swope family attorneys have decided to proceed with the prosecution if they can obtain the co-operation of the prosecuting attorney's office.

Dr. B. F. Zwart, the county coroner, will go to Chicago with attorneys for the Swope family and confer with the chemists. An inquest will be held when he returns. It probably will begin Tuesday. The prosecutor might act independently of the coroner, but it is probable he will wait for the inquest developments. Any way he will do nothing until the full report of the chemists is known.

That the absence of poison in the stomachs of Thomas H. Swope and Chrisman Swope will have little effect in contemplated prosecutions was indicated this morning by a representative of the Swope family. He said:

"It isn't always poison in the stomach that kills a man. It's the poison in the body. That poison could be found in the liver or in any other of the abdominal regions. And if the one who administered it was a person who deliberated upon the subject and who had made his plans regarding the killing of Thomas Swope and Chrisman Swope, that poison would have been given in a way, I believe, that would have taken it to some other part of the body than the stomach. And practically the whole case will hinge on whether enough poison to produce death was found."

It is believed that this will form the theory of prosecution if an arrest is made. The attorneys for the Swope family are going to Chicago tomorrow night, accompanied by Dr. Zwart.

Neither John G. Paxton nor John H. Atwood, the attorneys for the Swope family, would talk on the coming developments in the case this morning.

"The case has been tried too much in the newspapers already," Mr. Paxton said.

He will have two assistants, and is elated at his good luck in his new home.

Mrs. Reeder writes that she likes

Atwood said, "that the Swope family is seeking a prosecution. This is untrue, for nothing would please the family more than the knowledge that there was nothing to the case to make a prosecution necessary. As to any developments which may have come within the last few days, I can say nothing. I am not even saying that there have been any developments."

A friend of the Swope family was asked this morning if the prosecuting attorney had given any assurance that there would be an arrest and a prosecution.

"It is my belief that there has been no such assurance given," he said. "However, it is my opinion that those who have been investigating the case

HOLD SHIPMENTS

CATTLE RAISERS NOTIFIED NOT TO SEND LIVE STOCK TO MARKET.

MAY CAUSE A GREAT MEAT FAMINE

Stock Raisers and Shippers in Western States May Bring About a Serious Condition of Affairs by Obeying.

International News Service.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 29.—Ten thousand cattle raisers and live stock shippers in western states have been notified not to ship live stock of any kind to the market until the present agitation against the price of fresh meat shall have subsided.

Should this advice be acted upon there will be the greatest meat famine this country has ever seen, and all packing houses will be compelled to close, throwing thousands of men out of employment.

The notices to stop shipments have been sent by live stock commissioners at the different packing centers practically every shipper in Nebraska, Wyoming, South Dakota, Montana, Iowa, an other live stock shipping states have received notice to withhold stock for the present.

One Hundred From Fayette.

Mr. Isaac N. Farris received news by long distance telephone last night that President H. E. Stout, of Howard Payne college, Fayette, Mo., will bring a delegation of nearly 100 teachers and students to hear Mme. Landendorff, the great contralto, who appears here next Wednesday night at the Sedalia theater.

"There seems to be an idea," Mr.

siderably, but she was in Higginsville a few days in the early part of December, playing at the electric theatre that E. W. Hinote opened there.

Slater, according to the Higginsville papers, spent most of his time there. He had negotiated for a half interest in Chamblin's Electric Theatre, but failed to close the deal on account of insufficient cash.

Notwithstanding this he (according to one of the papers) "made himself a conspicuous figure around the show for two weeks." During his stay in Higginsville he worked his hot air machine to a frazzle. He had a "pleasing personality", which was really his most valuable asset. He passed himself off as "Howard Wilson, of St. Louis, a capitalist," and connected with more capital.

He "worked" the paper there, run

NABBED A MAYOR

HE, TOGETHER WITH TWO COUNCILMEN AND OTHER OFFICIALS, ARRESTED.

CHARGE OF VIOLATING LIQUOR LAW

Aged Detective, Posing as a Horse Buyer, Set a Trap By Which They Were Caught Winking at Lawlessness.

International News Service.

Crawford, Neb., Jan. 29.—Mayor P. C. Cooper, Councilman Bruer and McDowell, and other city officials were placed under arrest here last night on charges of violating the 8 o'clock closing law, as the result of the work of an aged detective who was sent here by the State Civil league to ferret out reports that Crawford was being run wide open.

Frank Erdman, the detective in the case, is 75 years old, and posed as a horse trader. Erdman came to town last week and let it be known that he wanted to buy horses. He got into the good graces of Mayor Cooper and the councilmen, and for the next few days led a high old life, and incidentally made contracts to buy half the horses in the county. Tuesday Erdman left town for a few days, he said, and yesterday a sheriff from Chadron arrived here, bringing with him warrants for the city officials, several citizens and three saloonkeepers. All were taken to Chadron for trial on charges of violating the liquor laws.

When Miss Kathryn Howard left Holden in October to go to Emporia, Kan., she started a train of experiences which it is doubtful if any other Holden girl would like to duplicate.

She went to Emporia to play the piano for a man whose stage name was given as "Billy Slater" and whose occupation seemed to be (a part of the time at least) coaching home talent entertainments, usually under the auspices of the Elks.

From Emporia comes the word that while there he had absolutely no idea of money. His personal expenses in a few weeks were $150 more than the proceeds of the show and the show took in good money for two nights. But the Elks felt the responsibility of the affair and paid all his debts without a grimace.

The next heard of "Slater" and Miss Howard was at Hutchinson, Kan., where he tried to put on his show, but was turned down. After passing a check, purported to have been signed by a third party, on the Schuman Piano Co. there, he left town, leaving Miss Howard stranded at the Hotel Midland, which still holds his trunks (at least it did on Jan. 25, the latest information we have). After a few days Miss Howard received a money order, which enabled her to leave town and her personal baggage was shipped to Holden.

On Tuesday, Nov. 23, Slater and Miss Howard passed through Holden en route to Fulton to visit her sister, who was attending school there. Slater was introduced to some of her friends as the train stood here.

From this point, Slater's movements are hard to trace definitely. Miss Howard was around Holden con-

E. W. SHULTZ RETURNS FROM LAND AND IMMIGRATION CONGRESS MEETING.

CENTRAL MISSOURI ADVERTISED

Sedalia Real Estate Dealer Handled Out Literature That Will Be Heard from With Good Results Later Along.

E. W. Shultz, of Shultz & Herold, and wife, returned Saturday from attending the Land and Immigration congress at Springfield, Mo., and reports that it was a monumental success in every particular.

While there, Mr. Shultz distributed more than one hundred of the illustrated booklets issued by Botz & Simpson a few months ago, descriptive of Sedalia, and also a poem, "Missouri," written by Judge H. B. Shantz, of this city.

The Springfield newspapers gave considerable space to Mr. Shultz's efforts in behalf of Sedalia and Pettis county, the Leader of Friday afternoon having the following:

While Pettis county has no exhibit at the land congress, a number of her progressive citizens are in attendance and are sparing no efforts to boost the resources of that portion of the state.

Among the Pettis' county visitors in attendance from Sedalia are John T. Stinson, secretary of the Missouri state fair; N. H. Gentry, of the board of directors of the state fair and prominent stock breeder; E. W. Shultz, an enterprising real estate dealer and in charge of the plans to boost Pettis county; Senator Holmes Hall and J. W. McClain, passenger and ticket agent for the Missouri Pacific. Mr. Shultz is accompanied by his wife.

"The Pettis county delegation is here to boost Pettis county first, and then Missouri," said Mr. Shultz today. "We are justly proud of our resources and want the people of the world to know that the hand of welcome to come within the borders of our county and help us in the development of our little empire. Pettis county land raises anything. A deal was closed only Monday for the sale of a tract of land at $150 an acre. Can any county beat that, and the land is worth every cent asked for it."

Mr. Shultz is distributing souvenirs of scenes in Sedalia and parts of Pettis county.

Rain or snow tonight and Sunday; not much change in temperature.

A CHRISTIAN DUTY.

To be sure, today is Sunday. But that's no reason why the good Christian people of Sedalia should not get out early and clean their walks of the snow which fell last night. In deed, have we not Scriptural precedent for just such sort of work on the Sabbath?

Did not the Master say:

"Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?"

If it be a work of necessity to pull a dumb animal out of a pit on the Lord's day, how much more is it such a work to clean the walks of snow so that little children, hundreds of them, can go in comfort to the Sunday schools, that men and women can attend houses of worship without wading through snow nearly to their shoe tops?

How many of these whose shoes are not perhaps thick enough to protect their feet might catch a severe cold, leading to serious illness, and maybe worse, on account of the neglect of some one to do his part in that duty that he and every one owes to others?

It's the part of good citizenship to clean your walks—nay, it's a Christian duty to do so, especially on the Sabbath.

THE PHOTOMETER READING.

R. B. Hammer, manager of the Sedalia Light and Traction Co., when seen by a representative of the Democrat-Sentinel regarding the photometer reading, as published in Friday evening's issue, expressed himself as perfectly willing that such readings be made daily and published in the press of the city, but thinks an injustice is being done his company in that it is not permitted to have a representative present when the reading is made.

Said Mr. Hammer: "I have a man who has received thorough instruction in reading the machine from an expert, and though I do not wish to question the good faith or ability of the gentlemen who read the photometer Friday, I submit, in all fairness, that my company should be present to verify the readings, if such readings are to be taken as official and published as showing the quality of gas we are furnishing our customers."

The position taken by Mr. Hammer seems to be a very fair one, and the Democrat-Sentinel believes that if the photometer readings are to be taken as showing whether or not the company is living up to its contract with the city, it should be given the privilege of having its expert present, to the end that it can be fully satisfied that no error is made. Right is right, and fair treatment can work no injury to any one concerned in this matter.

REGULATION THAT REGULATES.

During the recent local option election in Joplin, the Morning Globe, doubtless the most influential newspaper in the district, was an advocate of license, and while the campaign was on did everything it could to convince the people that its views were right.

The day after the battle was won the Globe took occasion to publish some good advice to the saloon keepers, who by the grace of the people's vote are permitted to continue in business.

It was very emphatic in its statements, and didn't hesitate to tell those to whom the lecture was addressed some very plain truths.

The advice given and the recommendations made were so good that it would do no harm were they printed in every newspaper in the country. Certainly, if the suggestion made should be acted upon by every person in the liquor business, and every city where liquor is sold, part of the question which has been, and is, agitating so many sections of the United States would be solved.

Here is the Globe's "lecture":

In yesterday's election the majority of the people of Joplin voted against local option. This simply means that the saloon as a law abiding business may continue. It would be the height of folly to construe the meaning of yesterday's vote otherwise.

There are men in the saloon business in Joplin whose instinct seems to be to violate the law. In defiance of the law they have kept their places open on Sundays. In defiance of the law they have failed to observe the ordinance stipulating the hour of closing during the week. In defiance of law, decency and public sentiment they have maintained the so-called wine rooms in connection with their places. In defiance of the law and public sentiment they have acted as a sort of appointment to gambling houses.

That sort of man must mend his ways, or he must quit the saloon business, or the people will wipe out the saloon.

The vote against local option does not mean that the indignation of the people has abated in the least against the lawlessness of the saloon.

With many of the voters—possibly the majority—who voted "wet" it was a case of choosing the lesser of two evils. It remains for the saloon men and for the officers of the law to vindicate the people's judgment. And if that judgment is not vindicated the people will be warranted in assuming that their judgment was wrong; that they did not choose the lesser of the two evils and will try local option the next time the question presents itself.

The city council has the authority to pass an ordinance that will regulate the saloons. Such an ordinance should be passed at once. It should provide:

That saloons shall close on Sunday, from midnight Saturday night until 5 o'clock Monday morning.

That saloons shall close promptly every night at 12 o'clock and stay closed until 5 o'clock in the morning.

That during the closing hours all screens, partitions, etc., shall be removed, and every other obstacle, so that the interior of the saloon, which shall be lighted, may be seen by those passing along the sidewalk.

That there shall be no musical instruments of any kind or character in saloons.

Finally, that the privilege of running a saloon in Joplin—the license—shall be valued at $1,500.

An ordinance of this kind would necessarily mean a substantial reduction in the number of saloons. They ought to be reduced. At present there are fifty-four saloons in Joplin.

Deafness cannot be cured in local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane of the ear, and the best way to cure it is to let the air pass over the ears. Those who have had Deafness for a long time have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its former condition, the ear will be destroyed forever. These cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

lin. It is a ridiculous number. At the most, there should not be more than twenty saloons in a city of this size.

If a saloon license in Joplin cost $1,800 or $2,000 it would have the effect of making the saloons self-regulated. Such a license would, in effect, be a very valuable franchise—too valuable, in fact, to be jeopardized by violating the law.

It would have the further effect of banishing from the saloon business the stool-pigeons of the brewers, and this would be one of the best things that could happen to the reputable legitimate saloon keeper.

The provisions requiring the interior of the saloons to be so exposed during closing hours that everything within would be visible from the street, would put an end to the illegal traffic now conducted behind the drawn curtains or screens or other barriers.

If this ordinance seems to be a drastic regulation, the answer is that the people are dead tired of rampant irregulation.

There is mighty little moral choice between "prohibition that does not prohibit" and "regulation that does not regulate."

And to the saloon man who does not wish to conform to these requirements, it may be offered by way of advice that he'd better get out of the business.

Let the council pass an ordinance such as has been outlined. Let the administration understand that this ordinance is to be enforced to the very letter. And in the enforcement of this ordinance the Globe pledges its influence and its energy, regardless of the politics of the party in power.

The affidavit alleges that O. T. Smith, the governor's law clerk; W. T. Hutchings, a Muskogee lawyer; W. B. Anthony, the governor's private secretary, and Lieutenant Governor George W. Ballamy are also involved in the alleged improper expenditure.

THE THIRD HOUSE

Quite a few names have been mentioned for mayor of Sedalia, and I presume many more will be brought forward before the candidates of the two parties are selected.

I have no words of disparagement for any of the gentlemen thus far offered, but I wish to call attention to one man, who, if he would consent to serve, would make the best mayor Sedalia ever had—Dr. W. J. Ferguson.

Dr. Ferguson is one of the most public spirited citizens in the city. He has an abundance of energy, is brave and fearless in the discharge of public duty and as chief executive of Sedalia would devote to its interests that wealth of enthusiasm that has so signally aided in every enterprise, and they are many, with which he has been identified, and oftentimes the leader.

He possesses so many requisites for this position that it would be impossible to name them all, but it can be safely stated that with him at the head of affairs in this city, Sedalia would move forward with an impetus that would amaze and at the same time profit every person interested in its prosperity.

Dr. Ferguson is a democrat, so let the democrats nominate him. The people will see to it that he is elected.—Progressive Sedalian.

Ex-Special Agent Tells How Ballinger Blocked His Plans.

Associated Press.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 29.—Charging Governor Haskell and other state officers with violation of the state constitution and the laws of the state in the manner in which public moneys have been expended, Representative Lester A. Harris, representing the republican minority, filed an affidavit in the lower house today.

In general, the charges against the governor are that he has mismanaged the public funds under his control, in whole or in part, and has wilfully and designedly authorized the misappropriation of said funds.

The affidavit alleges that O. T. Smith, the governor's law clerk; W. T. Hutchings, a Muskogee lawyer; W. B. Anthony, the governor's private secretary, and Lieutenant Governor George W. Ballamy are also involved in the alleged improper expenditure.

He declared among other things that Ballinger on one occasion instructed him not to pursue an investigation against Representative McLaughlin, of California, who held a claim in the Green group of coal lands in Alaska.

The witness gave further details of his work in connection with fraud cases and said he once thought of resigning in order to give out facts to the press, but was advised not to do so, as it would make too much scandal at the beginning of Taft's administration.

Sedalians Feel Hopeful Over Recent Developments Near Liverpool.

The South Texas Fruit and Land Co. of Sedalia, Messrs. F. F. Hatton and O. W. Stanley being associated with same, are greatly encouraged over their holdings near Liverpool, Texas, by reason of the following article that appeared in the Engleton, Texas, Times, under date of January 14, 1910:

The best well at Hoskins' Mound is pumping three hundred and fifty barrels of oil per day. This field is now claimed by the owners to be the best oil proposition in the state of Texas. These people are keeping quiet and working ahead, developing their field. Many oil experts, who have inspected this oil territory, have pronounced the adjacent territory, north of Hoskins' Mound, rich in oil prospects.

Newly Married Couple Arrested for Wedding Too Soon After Divorce.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—Because they were married before the time prescribed by the Illinois divorce of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. McArthur Jones, of Atwater, Montgomery county, were arrested today at St. Charles, Mo., for perjury and violation of the Illinois divorce law. The woman was divorced in September from Horace Cummings and married December 4 at Hillsboro. The couple were arrested later, but failed to go to Litchfield for trial and fled.

READY FOR THE TRIAL

Union Pacific Anxious for a Hearing in Government's Suit.

International News Service.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 29.—That the Harriman railroads are ready to go to trial at once with the anti-merger suit which the government has filed was announced by W. F. Heron, general counsel of the Southern Pacific railroad, here today. Heron is en route home from Washington.

"We are strictly within our rights and will fight for them to the court of last resort. The entire trans-Missouri country is interested in this suit and from our advices the business interests of the west are in favor of continuing the present arrangements in the operation of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific as a through line from the Missouri to the Pacific."

VERY BUSY PLACE

OFFICE OF C. W. ROBBINS AT CENTRAL BUSINESS COLLEGE.

LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS POUR IN

Inquiries to Sedalia Institution Be-speaks the Importance of School in Commercial World.

Your representative had a very pleasant visit with Mr. Robbins, president of Central Business college, Sedalia, Mo., in his institution on the corner of Massachusetts and Sixth street, and was not surprised after learning the methods adopted in his marvelous office training department, where he fits the advanced pupils for stepping into the highest grade bookkeeping and stenographic positions, at the splendid positions his pupils are holding.

Letter after letter was handed your representative to read from business firms, also telegrams were strewn over the desk from business firms desiring bookkeepers, stenographers and telegraph operators.

One call was for a stenographer, Rochester, N. Y.; another from New York City; another from Syracuse, N. Y. These were from former pupils. Another former pupil, Omaha, Neb., wanted a stenographer and an office man, and many others distributed through the United States. Some of these positions had been filled, others had to go wanting on account of not being enough pupils.

Your representative found over 400 pupils in attendance at this marvelous institution and the following pupils have been placed in good positions the past week: Will C. Cain, with the Sedalia Ice, Light & Fuel Co., at a splendid salary; Mr. Helvius at $75 per month in Omaha, Neb., stenographer and bookkeeper; Mr. John Dwight, St. Louis, Mo., at $55 per month; Mr. W. May with the Kansas City Electric Telephone Supply Co., at $50 per month. Mr. Tom Carter, telegraph operator, Holden, Mo., in answer to a telephone call; Mr. O. T. Holman, telegraph operator, Montrose, Mo., in answer to a telephone call; Mr. John King, book-keeping position, Kansas City, Mo., Swift Packing Co., at $10 per month. Many others were placed in positions but your correspondent's space in this paper will not permit mentioning their names.

TABLE EXPENSE

Is a mighty important question in every household—it's one that needs serious thought.

Most things bought for the house last a long time, and it usually pays to look at the quality more than the price.

In groceries, as in the other things, quality counts as much as price. This can easily be proven, by close watch upon the table expense for a month.

Good grades of groceries make little waste, and the waste is worth more consideration than an occasional extra penny or two.

Here is a selection of staple goods, at prices that are actual economy.

Why Pay More When You Can Do Better at the Corner Store?

PASSED BAD PAPER

by a Kansas City journalist, for a column write-up of the $18,000 opera house he would build, $10,000 to be of his own money. He was flush with money, cigars and highly scented hot air.

In the meantime, however, he was trying to get credit from local merchants, evidently with some success. Some time before Christmas he left town. One of the papers says:

"He left unostentatiously; he didn't stop to leave his new address; he didn't stop to pay his hotel bill; he simply left for parts unknown."

The Higginsville papers managed to dig up three of his numerous names, Howard Wilson," "Wm. H. Wilson," and "Howard Davidson."

On Dec. 22, "Wilson" went to Sedalia, where he met a young woman, answering to the description of Miss Howard, both as to personal appearance and ability to play the piano.

The pair were in Sedalia two days as man and wife. She played the piano in the hotel lobby and was pronounced a crackerjack by the guests.

Before leaving Sedalia he passed three checks, one for about $15 on the hotel and two on a big dry goods house for about $30 for articles for "his wife."

These checks were returned protested, and there is now a warrant in Sedalia for Wilson. But the prosecuting attorney, on account of the expense incident to getting the fellow from another state, is averse to push matters. None of these checks were in excess of $30, the felony limit.

On Dec. 11, he had established his credit at this hotel by paying the board bill of two stranded musicians, whom he sent to "his" theatre in Higginsville. He passed a check this time which was apparently good, so on the 23rd, when he handed over a $15 check on his bill for himself and wife, the hotel keeper returned $10 in change without a question.

The Progress said that Miss Howard spent Wednesday, Dec. 22, in Sedalia. She told a friend that she played in Knob Noster that night and stayed with a friend. The next day, Thursday the 23rd, she was on train No. 1 and did not stop at Holden. A friend, to whom she talked on the train, said she did not get on at Warrensburg; so she must have got on at Sedalia, for No. 1 does not even hesitate at Knob Noster.

Miss Howard sent word home from this train that she was going to Pleasant Hill and would return on the evening train and stop at an uncle's in Strasburg. This was not true, for the next day, Friday, Dec. 24th, about 4 p. m., she was married to this man, whose name had now grown to "Wm. E. H. Davis," and his address to Pittsburg, Pa.

She sent word back that they were going to Colorado on their wedding trip. Letters have since been received, which would intimate they are living in LaJunta, at least the letters are postmarked "LaJunta."

The Higginsville papers stated that "Wilson" had been arrested several days ago in Topeka, but information from the chief of police and sheriff there show this to be incorrect.

The cleverest imitation of real coffee ever yet made is Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. It is fine in flavor and is made in just one minute. No tedious twenty or thirty minutes' boiling, made from pure parched grains, malt, nuts, etc. Sample free. J. R. Williams.

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

That the idea of offering a prize of $5 in gold by the Missouri Pacific railway, for a name for its demonstration farm at the land congress, was a popular one, is attested by the fact that over 150 answers were received, says the Springfield Leader of Friday.

The name selected is "The Missouri Pacific Model Farm," the name being submitted by Mrs. D. M. Lewis, No. 1222 Benton avenue, Springfield, Mo., the prize being sent to Mrs. Lewis with the following letter from Mr. B. H. Payne, general passenger agent.

"Mrs. D. M. Lewis, Dear Madam:—The name submitted by you for the Missouri Pacific demonstration farm, i.e., 'the Missouri Pacific Model Farm,' has been selected, and I take pleasure in enclosing herewith $5, the amount of the prize offered for the name."

Among other names suggested were "Eureka Farm," "Gold Coin," "Gold Acres," "Sunny Side," "Pleasant View," etc. One of the noteworthy features in this connection was, that in at least 30 per cent of the names suggested, the word "Home" appeared.

New Bridge Near Sibley?

A new double track bridge will probably be built across the Missouri river near Sibley by the Santa Fe Railroad company before long. It is stated that the present bridge is to be abandoned, as it is an out-of-date wooden structure and is not considered adequate to handle the traffic.

Since the old bridge was built the rolling stock on the railroad has become much larger and heavier. It has been necessary to abandon a number of bridges, because they could not stand the strain. There is some talk of changing the location of the bridge, but such action is being strongly opposed by the residents here.

Warsaw Branch Transferred.

A deed conveying the S. W. & S. W. railway, known as the Warsaw line, to the Missouri Pacific railway was filed for record in the office of Recorder Morey Saturday.

A first and refunding mortgage of the Missouri Pacific railway to the Guaranty Trust company, of New York, and Benjamin F. Edwards, was also filed for record in the same office yesterday.

The booklet certifying to the mortgage contains 172 pages, or approximately 67,000 words.

J. J. Knoepfle, a Missouri Pacific machinist, went to Jefferson City Saturday for a brief visit.

Albert Rankin, traveling auditor for the M. K. & T., made a business visit at Rocheport Saturday.

M. A. Ferguson, an M. K. & T. brakeman, returned Saturday from a visit with home folks at Holden.

J. A. Koch, a Missouri Pacific secret service officer, came up from Jefferson City Saturday for a brief visit.

D. J. Temple, an M. K. & T. conductor, and wife, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Paul Huckins, at Texarkana.

C. E. Carver, a former Missouri Pacific engineer, and wife, have a daughter, born at their home on Bonneville street Friday.

P. F. Sullivan, a Missouri Pacific conductor, visited his family here yesterday, and returned to Pleasant Hill during the afternoon.

C. E. Whitley, of the Missouri Pacific, wife and son, returned Friday evening from a ten days' visit at Independence and Kansas City.

R. M. Garrett, resident engineer for the M. K. & T., returned Saturday from St. Louis, likewise L. W. Mosher, commercial agent.

J. P. Carroll, of Bloomington, Ill., and Charles Seiney, of Kansas, arrived here Friday, and will accept positions at the Missouri Pacific shops. J. W. McClain, city passenger and ticket agent for the Missouri Pacific, who has been attending the industrial congress at Springfield, Mo., will return home tomorrow night.

"Johnnie" McGinley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGinley, who left last August for a trip to the southwest and the Pacific coast, and who has for several months past been employed on an orange grove near Redlands, Cal., will return home sometime this week.

Not until the past week did Johnnie learn that his brother, Francis, had sustained the fracture of a leg in a coasting accident at Jefferson City on January 9, and that his services in the store were needed, so he arranged to return home without delay.

A postal card from Francis, received Friday, stated that the attending physician did not think he ought to leave the hospital for two more weeks.

The mix-up in the wrestling match last Thursday evening at the Sedalia theatre has been explained, and while the match was advertised between Rooney and Freeman, the latter failed to "go on," and Jack O'Leary was substituted. This, it seems, was the match of any suspicion as to its genuineness. O'Leary and Rooney will be on the mat again Thursday evening at the Sedalia theatre, and the match, the Democrat-Sentinel is assured, will be on the square and fair in its every detail.

THE POPE IN FEAR

AN INTERESTING DISCUSSION IN REGARD TO RINGING THE NOON ANGELUS.

TURK OR A COMET RESPONSIBLE?

It Was From the Mid-Day Angelus That Millet Drew Inspiration for His Famous Picture—King of Belgium.

BY MARQUIS DE CASTELLANE
International News Service.

Paris, Jan. 29.—An interesting discussion has arisen between Camille Flammarion, the astronomer, and Abbe Moreau regarding "The Noon Angelus." Flammarion claims it was ordered by Pope Calixtus III, because his holiness was frightened by the Halley comet. And in all conscience the good pope might well have been frightened. For the tail of the comet of 1456 was well nigh sixty degrees in length. In other words, this terrible comet has a tail as long as one-sixth of the circumference of the planet we inhabit.

So, according to "Flam," (as the delightful Madame Flammarion endearingly calls her celebrated husband) the pope ordered all the church bells to be rung at noon and the Angelic salutation to be said in honor of the Incarnation. Hitherto it was only said morning and evening.

Abbe Moreau contends that the mid-day Angelus was due, not to fear of the long-tailed comet, but through fear of the unspeakable Turk. The pope was in dread of the progress of Mohammed II, who boasted he meant to stable his horses in Saint Peter's in Rome.

The Abbe Moreau denies Camille Flammarion's assertion and quotes from many books to prove his case. The astronomer on the other hand flings at the Abbe's tonsured head the colossal work of Lubinietz, which contain 1526 pages and is three and one-half feet high.

My own opinion is that both the Abbe and the astronomer are right; for it seems the pope feared the head of the Turk quite as much as the tail of the comet. At all events it was from the mid-day Angelus that Millet drew his inspiration for his famous picture, and that was well worth while. Whether the Turk or the comet was responsible is a matter of small moment now.

King Albert, of Belgium, who has already made a very good impression upon his newly acquired subjects, chiefly by his oratorical powers, inherits many of his talents from his mother, the Duchess of Flanders. This remarkable woman, in addition to her knowledge of statecraft, is an artist of no mean ability. Among other famous paintings, she has just completed a series of sketches of the beautiful forest of Arden, where "Rosalind," "Sylvia" and "Touchstone" wandered in search of adventure. These sketches she is about to publish in an album in direct competition to many of her son's subjects, who have done the same thing.

Now is this quite fair, I wonder? Suppose these subjects should set themselves up as kings and queens instead of just mere painters? What then? Would not royalty protest, and with good reason? I think so. My own humble opinion is that our kings and queens should be satisfied to fulfill the functions of their royal profession and not encroach upon that of their faithful subjects.

As an inducement to would-be purchasers, the Countess of Flanders attaches her royal signature to each book. Last year Queen Alexandra, of England, did the same thing. She published a similar album and on each book appears her royal handwriting. Now who will save the painter folk from these commercial kings and queens? Already the suffragettes are citing the talents of these royal ladies as an argument in favor of votes for women. I myself don't see the connection. Tennyson says "Woman is the lesser man." All things and all countries considered, I think it begin to look as though she might become the "greater man."

Prince Hans, of Denmark, is seriously ill. Should he die his demise will mean mourning for nearly every kingdom of Europe. So wide are his connections he is familiarly known as "The Uncle of Europe." For a similar reason his brother, the late King Christian, was known as the "Father-in-law of Europe."

Prince Hans is uncle of Queen Alexandra, of England; of the Dowager Empress of Russia; of the Duchess of Cumberland; of the King of Denmark, and of King George, of Greece. He is the great-uncle of King Haakon, of Norway.

Prince Hans de Glucksbourg is 35 years old. Though he has children of his own, Uncle Hans is a great favorite with his nephews and nieces, and they never forget to send him Christmas and New Year's gifts. He preaches the simple doctrines of the Danes to his illustrious relatives, but King George, of Greece, prefers more complicated French civilization. Well, everyone to his taste.

A STATELY OFFICE

DUCHESS OF BUCLEUCH HAS RESIGNED AS MISTRESS OF ROBES TO QUEEN.

KNOWS ABOUT 'COURT ETIQUETTE'

The Haughtiest and Most Exclusive Member of British Aristocracy Has Held the Position Since 1885.

International News Service.

London, Jan. 29.—The Duchess of Buccleuch, the haughtiest and most exclusive member of the British aristocracy, has definitely resigned her stately office as mistress of the robes to Queen Alexandra, but she has consented to remain at her post until the new parliament assembles.

The duchess has held the position since 1885, and in her time has awed hundreds of shy debutantes at court functions. She knows every little detail about court etiquette, and is even more punctilious concerning those small matters than either the king or the queen.

Though possessing immense dignity and being outwardly haughty, the duchess is a very gracious and kind hostess at her own place in Scotland, and at her recent golden wedding celebration, when she was surrounded by many children and grandchildren, a member of the house party remarked enthusiastically that the duchess was, after all, "just a good old motherly sort."

Queen Alexandra has absolute power to choose her own household, and the government cannot interfere in any way. Her majesty is hesitating between the Marchioness of Salisbury and the Marchioness of Ripon, better known as Lady de Grey.

The latter is the queen's most intimate friend, but, although devoted to the queen, she does not care to be tied down by court functions, being a great traveler and something of a Bohemian, so that probably Lady Salbury will accept the office.

In the old days the appointments in the royal household were political, but the late Queen Victoria made such a determined fight about the point that her ministers gave in, and now, with the exception of such positions as the master of the horse and one or two other posts, the king and queen can choose their own household.

Only two ex-mistresses of the robes are alive. Louise, Duchess of Devonshire, who, as Duchess of Manchester, filled the post in 1858, and the Dowager Duchess of Roxburghe, who held the office in 1884.

AN ERA OF GAIETY

KING ALBERT'S COURT TO DIFFER GREATLY FROM THAT OF LEOPOLD II.

NEW REIGN, A NEW COURT CIRCLE

This Year Will Be a Season of Festival in Brussels, Where a Great World's Fair Is to Be in Progress.

International News Service.

Brussels, Jan. 29.—King Albert's court will differ greatly from that of Leopold II. In the first place, the new king believes that a new reign should mean a new court circle, so a large proportion of the personnel of the court, as constituted under King Leopold, will be compulsorily retired.

In the second place, there will be inaugurated a new era of comparative gaiety at the court, where little entertaining was done in the last reign, owing to King Leopold's frequent absences from Brussels and his preoccupation with his morganatic wife.

This year will be a festival in Brussels, where a great world's fair is to be held, and there will be numerous receptions by the king and queen in connection with the exposition.

Meanwhile extensive alterations and decorations will be carried out at the royal palace before the king and queen take up their residence there.

MURDER OF THIRTY

MODERN ITALY'S MOST NOTORIOUS BANDIT IS NOW A RAVING MANIAC.

CRIMES OF GIUSEPPE MUSOLINO

Eight Years' Solitary Confinement in the Depths of the Florentine Prison Resulted in De-thronement of Reason.

BY EDUARDO BENTINO. International News Service.

Rome, Italy, Jan. 29.—Almost entirely forgotten by the people of the outside world, the exploits of Giuseppe Musolino, modern Italy's most notorious bandit, are again recalled by his removal a few days ago from the underground dungeon in the government prison at Florence, where he has been confined since 1902, to the criminal insane asylum at Montuppo.

Eight years solitary confinement in the depths of the Florentine prison, where he was sentenced for life, following an almost unprecedented career of crime, has deprived Musolino of his reason, and when taken from the dungeon on January 18 he was a raving maniac.

For eighteen months this daring criminal shouted his defiance to the Italian government from his haunts in the Calabrian hills, and sneered at the army sent against him. Now and then he would turn up in some mountain village, and the following morning his pursuers would discover the bloody remains of his presence. In all, thirty murders are laid at his door and a countless number of robberies and other outrages. Hunted from place to place like a wild beast, he always managed to elude his pursuers with the aid of the peasantry.

It was while walking along the streets of Urbino, like a peaceful citizen, that he was finally captured on October 16, 1901. Then followed his sensational trial, which became of international interest, because of the picturesque career of the prisoner, and the many daring attempts he made to escape from prison. The innumerable feats of derring-do with which he was credited made him a popular hero, and in spite of the long list of crimes laid at his door, public sympathy, especially among the middle and lower classes, was overwhelming with him during the trial. He was finally convicted, however, and as the Italian law does not permit capital punishment he was sentenced to life imprisonment on June 11, 1902, being only 27 years of age.

Opinions differ as to the reason why Musolino became an outlaw, but it is generally believed that his career was the result of an alleged injustice that was done him by the government in his early youth.

He was born at Santo Stefano, a little mountain village in the province of Reggio Calabria. His father, assisted by Giuseppe's two sisters, kept a little wine shop.

Giuseppe, like the celebrated English brigand, Robin Hood, began life as a woodman, but he differed entirely in character from the legendary English outlaw, having been from childhood remarkable for his sentimental and morose disposition.

He was a lover of outdoor life, with a free, roaming spirit, and grew up strong and independent and was, in his own mind, perfectly happy.

It was about 1887 when the mind of the harmless woodman was changed to that of a vindictive and inexorable avenger of wrongs. This all occurred in the course of an evening. Musolino was sitting peacefully in his father's cottage, when Vincenzo Zocalli, a comrade, with whom he had a slight disagreement the day previous, called, and upon the pretext that they would celebrate their reconciliation, invited him to come out. Upon doing so Musolino was attacked by Zocalli and three confederates with knives and was wounded in thirty different places, his hands being hacked ad cuted in his attempt to ward off the blows. Fortunately, a cousin of Musolino came to the rescue and his assailants took to flight.

The following day Zocalli, who had not been arrested, filed a complaint against Musolino, charging that he had been shot at upon opening his barn door one evening, and that Musolino was the one that tried to kill him. At the trial Musolino was sentenced to twenty-one years' imprisonment, despite the fact that his hands were so badly damaged that he could not possibly hold a gun.

As the verdict was pronounced, Musolino's sweetheart, who was at the trial, fell in a faint, muttering, "He is innocent." The shock was so severe that she died shortly afterward.

Then Musolino, turning to Zocalli, with a face set and as white as marble, said to him:

"Hear me, Zocalli. I shall be 42 when I come out of prison, but, remember that if you were hidden in the bowels of the earth, I shall seek you out and eat your treacherous heart. And, if you be dead, I shall kill every one of your children."

Musolino was placed in prison in the same room with seven other prisoners, which was contrary to the rules. Fortunately for him, the director of the jail was a member of the secret society with which Musolino was also connected.

Musolino awoke one morning with a strange dream to relate to his fellow prisoners. He said he had dreamt that St. Joseph appeared before him and pointed out a way by which he could escape by making a hole in the wall at the foot of his bed. Being of a superstitious nature, his companions were elated by Musolino's dream, and for eight days they worked incessantly, concealing their progress so cleverly that the prison authorities failed to detect it. They finally burrowed their way through the wall, to meet with a huge boulder, which blocked their way to freedom.

But Musolino immediately told his comrades that St. Joseph had also shown him how to overcome this obstacle. After digging around the bottom of the stone with a hook which had been brought in by one of the prisoners and by which they had dug the hole in the wall, they finally loosened it, and they succeeded in getting it into the room, after superhuman exertions. With it came a gust of cool night air—it was the 9th of January—showing that they had penetrated the prison wall. The escape of Musolino and three of his companions created an extraordinary sensation, and Musolino was immediately taken by the simple-minded peasant to be an object of supernatural favor.

Free again, Musolino immediately proceeded to execute his plans for vengeance. And what a horrible vengeance it was!

Within three days he visited his native village and posted a letter to the authorities, telling them he only intended to punish those who were responsible for his false imprisonment and the death of his sweetheart.

A whole family were his first victims—the father, mother and son, who were found dead in the field where they had been plowing. He maintained that they were bribed to give false evidence against him.

A reward of $2,000 was then offered for the capture of Musolino, dead or alive.

to life imprisonment on June 11, 1902, being only 27 years of age.

Opinions differ as to the reason why Musolino became an outlaw, but it is generally believed that his career was the result of an alleged injustice that was done him by the government in his early youth.

He was born at Santo Stefano, a little mountain village in the province of Reggio Calabria. His father, assisted by Giuseppe's two sisters, kept a little wine shop.

Giuseppe, like the celebrated English brigand, Robin Hood, began life as a woodman, but he differed entirely in character from the legendary English outlaw, having been from childhood remarkable for his sentimental and morose disposition.

He was a lover of outdoor life, with a free, roaming spirit, and grew up strong and independent and was, in his own mind, perfectly happy.

It was about 1887 when the mind of the harmless woodman was changed to that of a vindictive and inexorable avenger of wrongs. This all occurred in the course of an evening. Musolino was sitting peacefully in his father's cottage, when Vincenzo Zocalli, a comrade, with whom he had a slight disagreement the day previous, called, and upon the pretext that they would celebrate their reconciliation, invited him to come out. Upon doing so Musolino was attacked by Zocalli and three confederates with knives and was wounded in thirty different places, his hands being hacked ad cuted in his attempt to ward off the blows. Fortunately, a cousin of Musolino came to the rescue and his assailants took to flight.

The following day Zocalli, who had not been arrested, filed a complaint against Musolino, charging that he had been shot at upon opening his barn door one evening, and that Musolino was the one that tried to kill him. At the trial Musolino was sentenced to twenty-one years' imprisonment, despite the fact that his hands were so badly damaged that he could not possibly hold a gun.

As the verdict was pronounced, Musolino's sweetheart, who was at the trial, fell in a faint, muttering, "He is innocent." The shock was so severe that she died shortly afterward.

Then Musolino, turning to Zocalli, with a face set and as white as marble, said to him:

"Hear me, Zocalli. I shall be 42 when I come out of prison, but, remember that if you were hidden in the bowels of the earth, I shall seek you out and eat your treacherous heart. And, if you be dead, I shall kill every one of your children."

Musolino was placed in prison in the same room with seven other prisoners, which was contrary to the rules. Fortunately for him, the director of the jail was a member of the secret society with which Musolino was also connected.

Musolino awoke one morning with a strange dream to relate to his fellow prisoners. He said he had dreamt that St. Joseph appeared before him and pointed out a way by which he could escape by making a hole in the wall at the foot of his bed. Being of a superstitious nature, his companions were elated by Musolino's dream, and for eight days they worked incessantly, concealing their progress so cleverly that the prison authorities failed to detect it. They finally burrowed their way through the wall, to meet with a huge boulder, which blocked their way to freedom.

But Musolino immediately told his comrades that St. Joseph had also shown him how to overcome this obstacle. After digging around the bottom of the stone with a hook which had been brought in by one of the prisoners and by which they had dug the hole in the wall, they finally loosened it, and they succeeded in getting it into the room, after superhuman exertions. With it came a gust of cool night air—it was the 9th of January—showing that they had penetrated the prison wall. The escape of Musolino and three of his companions created an extraordinary sensation, and Musolino was immediately taken by the simple-minded peasant to be an object of supernatural favor.

Free again, Musolino immediately proceeded to execute his plans for vengeance. And what a horrible vengeance it was!

ANTI-TARIFF TALK

GERMAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS ARE APPROACHING SOMETHING LIKE CRISIS.

OUR MEATS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

They Are Now Excluded from Germany, and We Insist They Shall Be Admitted on Terms With the Other Countries.

BY STEVEN BURNETT

International News Service.

Berlin, Jan. 29.—German-American relations are approaching something like a crisis. By Feb. 7 the Fatherland and the United States may be plunged into something like a bitter tariff war.

On that date the most favored nation modus vivendi, on which German-American tariff relations have rested for two years, will expire. Negotiations have been pending at Washington for months with a view to a new arrangement, which has been made necessary by the passage of the new American tariff law. It was hoped in Berlin that a simple understanding on the basis of both countries' lowest rates would enable them to enjoy another period of economic peace and friendship.

Matters, however, have been complicated by the insistence of America that its meat products, now excluded from Germany, shall be admitted on terms of equality with meat from other countries. The Agrarian-dominated reichstag will not listen to this demand, and Dr. von Bethmann Hollweg's government will find it difficult to accede to it. Unless America gives way or Germany surrenders, both nations' "fighting tariffs" will automatically come into effect at midnight of Feb. 7, and the war will be on. The Kaiser had all this in his restless mind when he flashed his New Year salutations to President Taft and gave fresh vent to his enthusiasm for an entente with America.

The announcement that the Austrian government will construct a new war harbor at Sebenico, on the Adriatic, creates the liveliest interest in German naval circles. It is interpreted as a direct reply to the recent reception of a French squadron in Antwerp, to the transformation of which into a free port Austria has to consent, as one of the compensations for the annexation of Bosnia. Nothing can more vividly illuminate the nebulous state of affairs within the triple alliance than the following comment in the Berlin "Lokalzriegler," a paper with close official relations:

"For the Italian ally of today the new war harbor of Sebenico is a little warning for the future. It lies considerably farther south than the present war harbor of Pola, and nearer to the main portion of Italy's Adriatic coast.

The Austrian navy, notwithstanding its smallness, compared with the fleets of the great sea powers, has always been known as one of the most effective. Its crews, recruited for the most part from the seafaring Dalmatians, are as splendid as its intelligent and gallant corps of officers. The Austrian war fleet constitutes for its ally, therefore, a very valuable auxiliary to the German navy. This fact, and the contemplated strengthening of the Austrian navy, have already caused patriotic tremors in Italy and England."

In a characteristic spirit of neutrality, Belgians insist that French as well as German champagne shall be allowed to be sold in all parts of the Brussels exhibition of the present year, and consequently in that part of it set aside for the German exhibits. The result is that the unions of German champagne growers refuse to exhibit, claiming, with a show of reason, that the German section of the exhibition should only contain exhibits exclusively German.

They have an additional argument in the fact that at the famous Paris exhibition of 1900 only German champagne was allowed to be sold in the restaurants of the German pavilion and its grounds. The Germans, however, seem to forget that the champion of the committee of the three chief race courses of Berlin—Grunewald (the new course), Hoppegarten and Karlshorst—have published their program for the entire year, and thus greatly helped other race course committees in Germany, and owners and trainers generally to make their arrangements. The total sum to be devoted to prizes is close to $7,500,000, of which almost $250,000 falls to Grunewald, with its twenty racing days; little short of this sum to Hoppegarten, with its nineteen days; about 190,000 to Karlshorst, with twenty-three days, and $80,000 for a few days' racing at the pretty little course of Strausburg.

These are substantial sums, and it is worth noting that they represent an increase over the year previous of $50,000 in prizes and four days in the number of meetings. An effort is obviously being made to create at Grunewald a Berlin Epsom or Ascot, or it might be more appropriate to saw a Berlin Longchamps or Auteuil, for, with the exception of six, the racing days are placed on Sundays and holidays, and the military steeple-chase, which has hitherto been the event of Hoppegarten, is to be transferred from that course to Grunewald, where it will be run on the 9th of June.

"Grand Prize of Berlin" and the "German St. Leger" will also be run there on July 17 and Oct. 2, respectively. The former has been raised in value from $1,750 to $10,000, another indication of the growing ambition of the capital.

The racing season opens at Karlshorst on April 3. One of the great difficulties, it appears, is to find suitable names for the various events for the present system of calling them after plants, flowers and jewels is generally disapproved of. At the spring races on one or the other course are to be found names like Lobelia prize, Acacia race, Violet handicap, Geranium prize and Palm prize, while in autumn, besides a good-bye handicap, races for the Amethyst prize, the Samragd handicap, the Topaz prize and even a Malachite race will be run for. In Cologne and Baden also have the prizes been increased. The Baden Hunt race, value $12,500, is now the best dower steeplechase in Germany.

For a term of years he played leading roles with a number of New York productions, and while he was writing "Montana," which he produced in the fall of '95, and which was a success beyond his fondest dreams. This continued to be Mr. Carey's starring vehicle until the beginning of the present season, when he wrote and produced another play at the Majestic theater, New York, entitled, "Two Women and That Man," which from the opening night was a financial and artistic success.

This year Mr. Carey has placed the role heretofore played by himself in the hands of Mr. William H. Ferris, an actor long identified with the better class of dramas, and fully capable of giving a finished production.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Sedalia women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Sedalia woman's words:

Mrs. J. N. Elmore, 501 E. Third St., Sedalia, Mo., says: "A dull pain in my back and shoulders made me miserable and I was so lame at times that to arise from a chair or to stoop was an extremely difficult operation. A weakness of the kidneys also caused me great annoyance and I became worried about my condition. Finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Bard's drug store, and before long I was free from the trouble. Since publicly endorsing this remedy in 1906, I have had but little annoyance from my kidneys and therefore, I gladly confirm my former statement."

The Knock-out Blow

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but to the stomach we are utterly indifferent, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out.

Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Golden Medical Discovery." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decided for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him it's only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If not promptly supplied trade elsewhere.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only on a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, cloth-bound. Address Dr. Pierce as above. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

PEERS' PENSIONS

GRANTED BY SPECIAL ACTS OF PARLIAMENT TO THEIR PREDECESSORS.

LORD RODNEY, AGE ONLY 18 YEARS

The Pension He Is to Receive Takes the Form of an Annuity of $10,000 Per Annum—Granted in Reign of George III.

International News Service.

London, Jan. 29.—There are a number of peers who are receiving pensions granted by special acts of parliament to their predecessors for great naval or military services, and the latest to succeed to a hereditary pension of this kind is Lord Rodney, a youth of 18, whose father died recently at a comparatively early age.

The pension, which takes the form of an annuity of $10,000 per annum, was granted in the reign of George III to the great naval commander, Admiral George Rodney, for the services he rendered to his country by defeating the French fleet commanded by the Comte de Grasse in 1782.

The act of parliament made it clear that it was to be paid to every male heir until the Rodneys became extinct, so that it may go on for many years to come. It has already been paid for one hundred and twenty-seven years.

The late Lord Rodney spent every penny of the pension on the poor of Camberwell, one of London's squalid districts, where he owned some property, and it is hoped that the new young peer will follow his father's example.

It is extremely unlikely, however great the services of any general or admiral has been, that any modern government would set up similar pensions. Other peers, who enjoy pensions of $10,000 per annum for services rendered by their predecessors are Lord Raglan, Lord Seaton, Viscount Gough and Lord Napier of Magdala. Viscount Hardinge draws a larger pension of $15,000 but all those pensions will cease on the death of the present holders.

There are other things besides such pensions which some government will have the courage some day to abolish. One of these is the sending of flags to the king on the anniversaries of the battles of Waterloo and Blenheim by the Dukes of Wellington and Marlborough, respectively. According to the deed of gifts both would be deprived of their estates were they to fail to comply with the orders made when the nation presented the original dukes with their town and country places.

A DICKENS SHRINE

SUGGESTED THAT ONE OF NOVELIST'S HOMES BE BOUGHT BY THE NATION.

CARLYLE HAS SHRINE AT CHELSEA

Shakespeare Immortalized at Stratford-on-Avon, and Sir Walter Scott's Home Visited by Many Pilgrims Yearly.

International News Service.

London, Jan. 29.—The "Dickensian," a journal given up to the cult of Charles Dickens, is getting indignant over the American scheme to purchase the building at the corner of Lincoln's Inn Fields, which has been known for many years as "The Old Curiosity Shop."

It is stated that the old shop, although doubtless very interesting as a piece of old London, is not what it is represented to be, and there are very grave doubts as to whether it is a Dickens landmark at all.

In fact, there are many circumstances which are dead against the shop being even remotely connected with the famous "Old Curiosity shop." The same may be said of the "Old Cheshire Cheese," in Fleet street, which is annually visited by hundreds of Americans, who fondly believe that it was the favorite tavern of Dr. Johnson, whereas there never has been the slightest evidence to show that the tavern was even in existence during the famous long-distance talker's lifetime.

Dickens' lovers are now agitating for a real Dickens shrine, and one of the most prominent of these, Mr. E. V. Lucas, suggests that one of the great novelist's homes should be purchased by the nation and converted into a Dickens museum.

It is pointed out that Carlyle has his shrine at Chelsea, Shakespeare is immortalized at Stratford-on-Avon, and Sir Walter Scott's home at Abbotsford is visited by hundreds of pilgrims every year. It is certain that when politics have ceased to fill the minds of the people the Dickens enthusiasts will come forward with a good memorial scheme to be carried out in 1912, the centenary of the novelist's birth.
